GLAMOROUS HELPING HAND will be the fashion luncheon at the El Mirador Hotel Saturday, with Miss Jane Russell (Mrs. Bob Waterfield), founder of WAIF, as guest of local chapter president Mrs. Glenn Austin. WAIF, fund-raising arm of International Social Service, has financed bringing of 8,000 foreign orphans into U. S. for adoption. The local chapter—one of seven—is only one to maintain portion of funds for local children's work. The chic show—first resort fashion show of the season—is sponsored by Saks Fifth Avenue, with proceeds going to WAIF.

ACCIDENTS SULLY THANKSGIVING DAY

The joys of Thanksgiving were nearly lost in one of the worst single-day holiday traffic records in history yesterday as 146 persons lost their lives on the nation's highways.

But the Thanksgiving traffic toll was relatively light in the desert area, where Palm Springs police and California Highway Patrol officers registered three accidents with a total of nine injuries, four of which were classified as serious.

THE ONLY FATALITY reported in the area occurred Wednesday night when Mrs. Betty Day Motino, 30, of Palm Desert, succumbed to injuries sustained in an earlier auto crash at Indian Wells.

Highway patrol officers said the worst desert area crash seriously injured four persons on Highway 99, near Indio, early yesterday morning.

Injured in this three-car smash-up were Joseph F. Clough, 24, of Eureka; Don Thue, of Spokane, Wash.; Merwyn A. Schonfeld, 19, of Spokane, and James C. Wilkinson, 43, of Oxnard.

THE CHP said the crash occurred when Wilkinson's turning

Wine Growers, Producers Set Meeting Here

Special to The Desert Sun California wine growers and producers will meet Dec. 1-2 in El Mirador Hotel at Palm Springs, the Wine Institute said today in San Francisco.

Institute President Don W. McCally said the winter meeting would be preceded Nov. 30 by an evening reception presented by the Cucamonga District Wine Growers Association.

Vineyards and winery property worth more than 600 million dollars are represented by the Institute, McCally said.

In N. Y. Hospital

Liz Taylor Gains Over Pneumonia

NEW YORK (UPI) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor, stricken with double pneumonia, was reported in good condition today at the Harkness Pavilion of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center.

Miss Taylor was taken to a ninth-floor suite in the hospital Thursday.

SHE HAD BEEN suffering from a cold since coming to New York and had been confined to her bed since late last week, a spokesman said. The illness, a virus type of pneumonia, might run a course of three days to three weeks, he said.

THE RAVEN-HAIRED actress' husband, singer Eddie Fisher, accompanied her to the hospital.

Dr. Dana Atchley said no visitors except Fisher and close friends would be allowed to see her.

It was the third time Miss Taylor had been taken to the famed Harkness Pavilion. She was there in 1956 for a delicate, five-hour operation for a crushed spinal disc and again in 1957, when she gave birth prematurely to a daughter by producer Mike Todd.

Golf Course Helicopter Proposal Told

Council to Be Asked to Okeh Downtown Site

A Los Angeles area helicopter service is expected to appear before Palm Springs City Council next Monday to present a plan for air service between downtown Palm Springs and the many golf courses within the Winter Golf Capital of the World.

Edwin M. Siville, president of Mercury Helicopter Service of Torrance, was in Palm Springs last week to lay the groundwork to bring his service to the desert area.

PRELIMINARY PLANS call for the shutting of local visitors to the local links, landing on the practice driving ranges, and bringing shoppers back into the city.

They plan to take golfers to the local links, landing on the practice driving ranges, and bringing shoppers back into the city.

MANY OF THE COURSES have agreed to allow the helicopter to land, "but the need is for a heliport in the downtown section of town," Siville was quoted as saying.

Mass Scheduled In Denver for Dolly O'Loughlin

Funeral mass for Dolly O'Loughlin, 70, 30-930 San Gabriel Circle, will be held at the Church of Immaculate Conception, Denver, with Monsignor Canavan officiating.

Rosary will be recited Sunday evening at Moore's chapel in Denver. Interment will be in Mt. Olivet in that city, with Wiefels and Sons Mortuary in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. O'Loughlin died at 3 a.m., Wednesday, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Hanson, following an illness of one year's duration.

A native of Silver Plume, Colo., she had been a seasonal resident here for 15 years.

Survivors beside her daughter are three sisters, Mrs. Cora Pollock, Mrs. Eva Smith and Mrs. Stella Deering, all of Denver, and two grandchildren.

CITY HAS NEW STREET, ALLEY GIVEN NAME

Palm Springs city has a new street.

It isn't much of a street—in fact, it's only an alley, but now it has been officially named.

Gayle Way. The city council changed the name from Calle Pequeno—meaning "small alley"—to the new name at the request of Gail Thompson, who has just completed a new building at the corner of East Palm Canyon Drive and Gayle Way.

U.N. Receives Formal Report On Hungary

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Sir Leslie Munro of New Zealand, special U. N. representative on the Hungarian question, reported today that trials and executions resulting from the 1956 freedom revolt in Hungary still are being carried out.

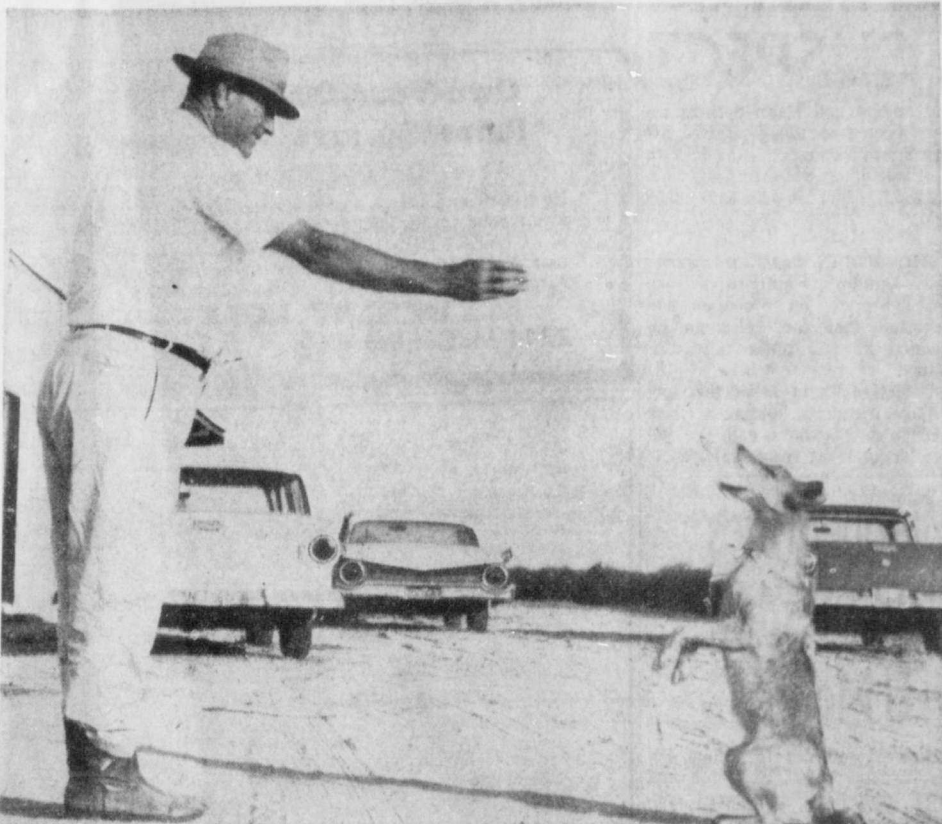

Munro, in a formal report to the General Assembly, said Russian troops remained in the country with an assurance by Hungarian Prime Minister Janos Kadar that "the time will come when Soviet troops will be withdrawn."

BOTH THE HUNGARIAN and Soviet authorities, Munro said, had refused him permission to visit Hungary in his capacity as a U. N. representative and had returned his correspondence to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld without reply.

"That the present report continues the theme of previous reports is entirely the responsibility of the Hungarian authorities," Munro said. "No response has been forthcoming such as may reasonably be expected of a member of the U. N. organization concerned to promote the purposes of the organization and to act in accordance with its principles."

"IT WOULD SEEM reasonable to regard agreement by the Hungarian authorities to a visit by myself to that country in my capacity as U. N. representative as the indispensable preliminary acknowledgement on the part of Hungary of its willingness to fulfill its obligations as a member of the United Nations."

"Five prison sentences were handed down between last March 24 and April 1 to defendants charged with conspiring to overthrow the people's democratic state order," according to the Hungarian Telegraph Agency, Munro reported.

RARE SCENE IS MAN feeding a coyote by making him stand up on her hind legs. But it is a common scene at the C. W. Freeman ranch in Coachella. Freeman of 441 Chino Canyon Road, Palm Springs, holds up piece of meat he uses to encourage coyote named "Pretty" (or "Bonita") to do tricks. Freeman says the coyote is tame as a dog and twice as smart. (Desert Sun Photo)

COYOTE STEALS FIDO'S THUNDER

By CHUCK WHEELER
MECCA — They're having a howling good time out at the C. W. Freeman asparagus ranch in Mecca.

Some oldtimers who have always believed a coyote could never become a domesticated pet — let alone learn tricks — are scratching their heads in disbelief at the sight they're seeing.

FREEMAN HAS raised a coyote from nine months old and presently the 14-months old "wild animal" is stealing Fido's thunder.

"Bonita" or — translated to English — "Pretty," a coyote given to Alvin Lopez, an employee of the ranch, stands up for her supper, rolls over like a dog, shakes hands and chases sticks like a dog does.

Further, the coyote acts just like his canine cousin. Only difference is Pretty takes a little longer to become adjusted to strangers.

GIVEN TO LOPEZ by a man from Arizona, Pretty now shares a dog's life with another pup at the ranch.

Freeman and Lopez claim that Pretty is "smarter than a dog" and much more cunning. And Pretty is never chained.

"Ranchers all say that it is remarkable for a coyote to do tricks," Freeman explains, adding that she is the first one he has ever been able to get near.

THE GREYISH-BROWN coyote likes to lick salt off people's hands and after making friends is perhaps friendlier than a dog.

But the instinct of the coyote is still there as was evidenced when she was wary of a photographer and his camera. The dog's intelligence at once recorded the camera as something foreign. But after some coaxing she sat up for her meals and when other ranch hands arrived, Pretty was not afraid of the photographer.

Guess she thinks there is safety in numbers.

Citizens Group To Investigate License Fees

Mayor Frank Bogert, with the approval of the City Council, has named an eight-man committee to look into business license fees here.

The committee, including representatives ranging from small businessmen to the professional man, includes: Matt Dragecevic, chairman; George Ripley, Bill Maidhof, Bob Hill, Richard Vander Veer, Manny Ryan, Thurman Arnold and Dr. Norman Haber.

Members will be called to a meeting by Dragecevic "very soon" and with the help of administrative heads, will go over the license fee law and recommend changes.

ROSE PARADE SEAT APPLICATIONS NOW AT CHAMBER OFFICE

Applications to reserve grandstand seats for the annual New Year's Day Rose Parade in Pasadena, California, are now available at the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce, according to Chamber Manager Jimmy Cooper.

The reserved seats being offered are in a choice location of the parade route and are on the south side of the street.

Applications may be secured at the information desk in the Chamber building.

New Street Dedication Set Monday

Official dedication of Tahquitz-McCallum Way will be held Monday at 11:30 a.m. at the Indian Avenue entrance to the street.

Palm Springs' major east-west street will be dedicated by members of the city administration and the Indian Tribal Council.

The street was made possible by a bond issue voted by the residents of Palm Springs in 1955, and during the ensuing years, the city administration has been after rights-of-way for the street.

Residents of Palm Springs are invited to attend the dedication ceremonies.

Nehru Given Confidence Vote

NEW DELHI (UPI) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru today won a smashing vote of confidence on his government's cautious method of dealing with the Chinese Communists in the border dispute between the two nations.

BULLETIN Letters will go out today from the office of City Attorney Jerry Bunker, notifying violators of the Sign Ordinance that they have 5 days in which to remove their rate signs from local hotels, Bunker has announced.

On Cancer Charge

Tobacco Men Hit U.S. Medical Men

By RONALD H. NESSEN
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The tobacco industry said today there is no scientific evidence to support Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney's new charge that cigarette smoking is the chief cause of lung cancer — even with filtered brands.

The industry suggested that the real villain might be polluted city air.

BURNEY, HEAD OF the Public Health Service, said that the weight of evidence to date implicates smoking as the "principal" cause of the nation's increased rate of lung cancer.

He said in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association that "unless the use of tobacco can be made safe, the individual's risk of lung cancer can be reduced best" by giving up smoking.

BURNEY SAID that while the possibility exists, in theory at least, of treating tobacco before it is packed into cigarettes to eliminate the hazard of cancer, this has not been demonstrated in practice.

DR. C. C. LITTLE, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, said scientific proof was piling up "that conflicts with or fails to support the tobacco-smoking theories of lung cancer."

AN ESTIMATED 6,000 to 7,000 demonstrators formed a human wedge to drive through the police barricade and smash down a portion of a huge steel gate around the Diet compound.

The opposition Socialist party, which has been bitterly opposing the treaty revision, issued a statement expressing "regret" that the demonstrators had entered the Diet compound.

POLICE FINALLY battled the mob back and by early evening it had dwindled to about 2,000 milling around the edge of the compound.

Most of those remaining were students who continued to sing and shout slogans opposing treaty revision.

The Tokyo demonstration was one of a series of nationwide rallies staged by the Communist-led General Council of Japan Trade Unions to protest the new treaty.

SOHYO SAID HALF a million students and unionists were on the march in Tokyo, Osaka and 650 other places in Japan. The police, however, put the figure at 125,000.

A new security treaty, reaffirming America's right to station troops here but giving Japan greater voice in their disposition, is expected to be signed in mid-January to form the cornerstone of the relationship between the two nations.

In Tokyo, 25,000 demonstrators, wearing headbands and carrying brilliant red-and-white banners denouncing the new treaty as a plot concocted by "imperialists" and "Japanese militarists" marched toward the gates of the Diet building.

WEATHER Desert area forecast: Occasional high cloudiness but mostly sunny today and Saturday. Local gusty northeasterly winds today. Highs today 65-75 upper valleys, 75-85 lower valleys. Slightly warmer Saturday.

Yesterday's high was 81, the low 54. On Wednesday, the high readings were 83-88.

CV COMMISSION SUPPORT ASKED

INDIO — The Board of Directors of the Coachella Valley Economic Development Commission has been asked by two civic groups to oppose consolidation of the four justice courts to two municipal courts in the desert area.

At the commission meeting this week in the Hotel Indio, the board read letters from the Mecca Civic Council and the Coachella Chamber of Commerce asking the commission support in opposing court consolidation.

BOTH BODIES claim that consolidation would be costlier and less convenient for residents. The board took the matter under advisement.

Dr. Horton said that he has not attended a convention of the group at any time.

In other business, the commission voted to keep its present officers and board of directors for another year.

DIRECTOR E. F. Pierson suggested to the board that it seek to attract industries which could utilize the warm summer weather of the desert.

He said that paper mache for mannikins, made by the late Bill Zeppenfeld of Palm Springs, was once dried in the hot desert and that perhaps other like industries might establish themselves in the desert if suggested to do so. The commission also decided to investigate possibilities of a highway extension from Niland to Yuma.

J. A. Engstrand said that it would put trucks 90 miles closer to Yuma.

STEALING TV SIGNALS FROM CABLE ILLEGAL

It is now against the law to steal a television signal in the City of Palm Springs.

City Council this week passed a law which makes it a crime to tap onto the Community Television cable which serves the resort city.

The resort city is served by two television sources, the cable system and Palm Springs Translator, Inc.

Elliot Declines Library Post

In a letter to the City Council this week, Dr. William Elliott said that although it was an honor, he was unable to accept his appointment to the Library Board.

Dr. Elliott said that other commitments and business keeps him from taking the appointment.

A new name will be recommended to the council by the library board.

Scout Council Sets Meeting

Riverside County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its fortieth annual meeting, banquet and ladies' night at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, Dec. 1, at the Sheriff's Training Center in Riverside.

OJAI HAS FIRST HOLD ON SUSPECT

A Los Angeles auto salesman who allegedly blazed a trail of bogus checks from Palm Springs to Colorado while waging a cross-country romance is today looking forward to a free ride home — courtesy of Ojai police.

Palm Springs police Detective Marvin Rudin said the salesman, 38-year-old Jack B. Starkey, authored some $3,000 worth of bad checks — including about $400 worth here — during his spree.

RUDIN SAID HE has collected five Starkey checks issued to a local hotel and various clothing merchants. He suspects that four or more have been passed here, according to the order of Starkey's pre-numbered checks.

The investigator reported that Starkey was arrested in Denver with his traveling companion, identified as Kay Root, of Los Angeles. An order for his extradition was issued by Ojai, Calif., police, where Starkey also allegedly issued bogus bank drafts.

DENVER POLICE said Starkey was driving a foreign car believed stolen from a Los Angeles auto dealership, where he was employed as a salesman until he started off on his unheralded junket, Rudin related.

Ojai police filed an order for

Wagner Rites Held Tuesday In El Monte

Funeral services for Linus Peter Wagner, 63, of El Monte and 37-732 Melrose Drive, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at Schanel Mortuary Chapel, El Monte, with the Rev. Kenneth Barta, vicar of Immanuel Episcopal Church, officiating.

Entombment followed in Live Oak Memorial Park.

Wagner, owner and president of Trailer Industries, Inc., a trailer manufacturing company, El Monte, died Friday in that city.

Born Oct. 13, 1896, in New Riegel, Ohio, he was a member of the Trailer Association and a veteran of World War I.

Survivors include his widow, Lillian M. Wagner; one daughter, Yvonne Orchard of Seattle, Wash.; two grandchildren and two brothers, Dr. Ralph B. Wagner of St. Louis, Mo., and Gerard Wagner of South Pasadena.

Desert Business News Featured

George O. Wheeler, founder of the Village Magazine, veteran newspaper publisher and pioneer desert businessman, today is putting the finishing touches on the first issue of his new weekly publishing venture — A "Washington-type business letter."

First copies of "Wheeler's Desert Letter" will be mailed to advance subscribers on Thursday, Dec. 3.

DESCRIBED BY Wheeler as "not a newspaper, not a magazine, but a strictly regional, Washington-type letter," the new publication will be keyed primarily to investors, realty people, bankers and businessmen with a direct interest in the economy and growth patterns of "The Golden Coachella Valley."

Each weekly issue of WDL will provide readers with a comprehensive analysis of valley-wide activity in real estate, agriculture, banking, building, and retail and resort trade, Wheeler said.

FACTS AND FIGURES will be used to interpret latest Desert business trends and special reports will probe such topics as the Water Problem, use of Mexican field hands in the lower valley, local credit buying.

Editor-publisher Wheeler said that he will tap private sources as far away as Sacramento, Calif., and Washington, D. C., in order to "illuminate local events and trends."

PURPOSE OF THE Letter is to provide subscribers with "a sensitive barometer of activity on which to base sound business and investment decisions," said Wheeler.

Privately written for Coachella Valley subscribers, Wheeler's Desert Letter will not be sold on newsstands.

Wheeler emphasized that the Letter will be without advertising of any kind.

A N ATTRACTIVE, embossed monthly binder cover to hold weekly issues of WDL goes with every subscription.

Also sent to each subscriber is a master Coachella Valley Reference File containing valuable information on the area.

Housed in a two inch thick, loose leaf, 8 1/2 by 11 inches annual binder cover, the file is indexed and numbered for ease of access.

The contents include: numbered key map of the area; a set of 3-color maps of the Coachella Valley, including townships, sections and ranges; a Business Activity Index; an FYI feature summary; charts, graphs and other basic data.

WHEELER LAUNCHES his Letter with more than 40 years of newspaper, magazine and business experience behind him.

He was born in Sauk Center, Minn., near the turn of the century. The boy across the street; late, great novelist Sinclair Lewis, impressed youthful Wheeler with his colorful school essays to spark an early interest in writing.

Newspapers attracted him, and he went from paper to paper, traveling continuously as he climbed steadily to more important editorial posts.

IN CANADA AT the Calgary Stampede in 1922 he was the first to broadcast a sporting event over radio. He was variously, a legislative reporter; correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor; American correspondent for the Sydney (Australia) Sun.

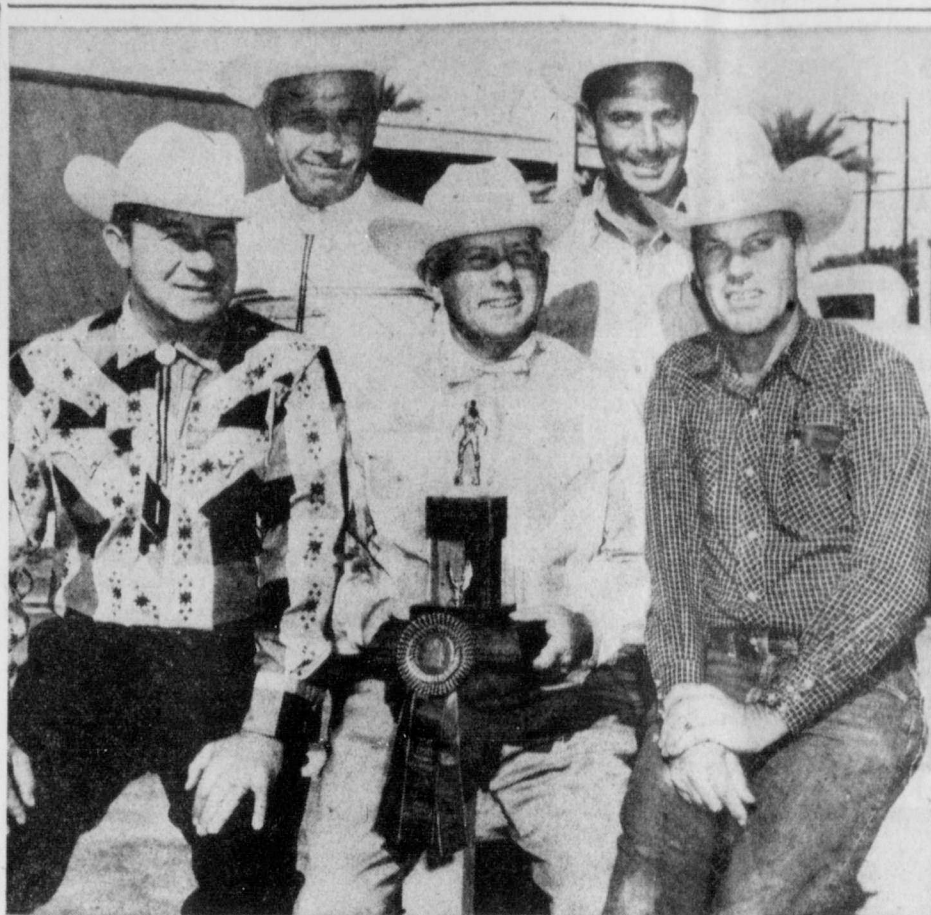

Coming to suburban Los Angeles in 1924, Wheeler founded the Industrial Post. Under his guidance the enterprise grew into a chain of six newspapers in the Southern Los Angeles area.

In 1946, he sold his publishing interests to come to Palm Springs, his permanent home since then.

A year later, Wheeler returned to publishing by founding The Villager, well known regional slick magazine which he successfully operated until 1953, when he sold to Ray Ryan.

IN RECENT YEARS, the popularity of summarized business analyses letters among businessmen-investors in such areas as New York; Washington, D.C.; and Boston led him to consider a similar publication for men interested in the booming Coachella Valley.

The result is Wheeler's Desert Letter.

NPS Community Church Slates Public Dinner

NORTH PALM SPRINGS — The North Palm Springs Community Church will hold a public dinner on December 6 — with the men in charge.

The dinner — served from 6 to 8 p. m. — will feature turkey or ham, prepared by a committee headed by Harold Owens, formerly employed at Lyons Steak House, Palm Springs. Dinner price will be $2 each for adults, and 35 cents each for children.

Proceeds from the dinner will go toward purchase of chairs for the church, which was built 14 months ago and is now debt-free. Committee members for the dinner include L. G. Williams, Arnold Dever, the Rev. Dwight Ball, A. L. Eaton, Harold Case, and Frank Brown. The church is at the corner of Thumb and Sanborn Streets.

Stevenson vs. Nixon

A recent informal "poll" of the 10 top Washington press service correspondents revealed that this group comprising some of the most expert political forecasters in the nation believe that Stevenson and Nixon will be the respective 1960 presidential nominees selected by the Democrat and Republican parties.

This was the opinion expressed by eight of those queried, with Kennedy being picked as a candidate by only two of the supposedly astute writers reputed to be on the "inside" track in matters of partisan politics.

That Stevenson is showing a surprising resurgence of strength and increasing popularity in Democrat circles is also revealed in the latest national polls in which he has steadily gained to a point where he is now rated higher than the younger Massachusetts hopeful.

Similarly Republican polls continue to indicate that Nixon has a considerable majority in that party and is maintaining a sizeable margin over Rockefeller as the second contender.

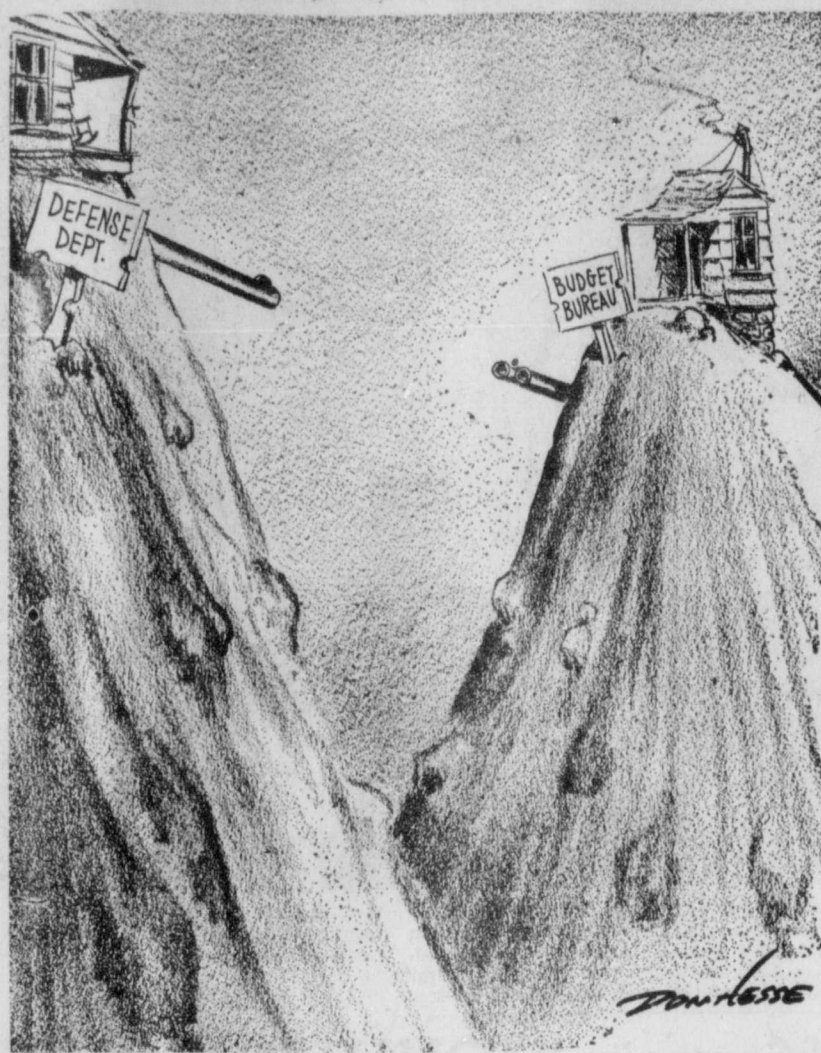

While any one of a number of consequential developments which could change standings might transpire between now and presidential time, and doubtless quite a lot of fanfare will be stirred up in behalf of other prominent and less prominent contenders, it would take a major reversal of present trends to affect the final outcome.

The fact that the poll of newsmen also showed that a majority were convinced that a Stevenson-Nixon race would result in Nixon being the winner seems to cause little dismay among Stevenson supporters, although boosting the hopes of Nixon backers.

Partisan politics being what it is, no one can be certain until the final convention ballot is cast who the actual nominee will be of either party. Even a majority of the expert political observers have sometimes been wrong in their advance predictions due to last minute maneuvers on the convention floor.

But, Stevenson and Nixon have a big advantage in being the pre-convention leaders.

This Side Of The Sun

'Tis the day after turkey
And all through the house,
All that you hear
Is that "ate too much" grouse.

Post-Thanksgiving behavior all depends upon which school of thought you entertain.

With some families, it's turkey hash today and turkey soup tomorrow.

In other households, they gnaw on what is left of the turkey today and then there isn't enough left for hash or soup tomorrow.

This household belongs in the second category.

TODAY I AM going to report on two communications at hand. Both are personal and strictly family but that will not stop me.

One came from the four grandsons in Hinsdale, Illinois. It was a memorandum written by the eldest, aged 10, and signed by the other three, ages 4, 6 and 8.

It was to the effect that I re-run that poem which has appeared early in the last two Christmas seasons, dealing with the theme that kids of that age don't want clothes or something useful.

They want toys which they can break.

"And run it soon enough before our early shopping grandparents, uncles, aunts and so on, buy us bathrobes, pajamas, cute suits and socks," it concluded.

Will have to look that verse up and oblige the little mon-pardon me, grandsons.

THE OTHER was a memorandum from Mrs. G which I found on my home desk. It dealt with my race track formula in which I figure my day's expenses at $23.42 and take just that much to the track. What I come home with is pure profit. Anyway, this communication said:

"You listed 'auto, 36.2 miles at 10 c a mile, $3.62' Yes, but who pays for the gasoline and upkeep of the car?"

"Again, you say 'valet parking, $1.' Whose dollar?"

"Then there is that item 'program, 25c.' Who buys two of them and gives you one?"

TO TOP IT OFF, said the memorandum, "there's that item 'refreshments (3) and tip, $2.25.' How about the four others I generally have to buy after hitting a long shot on a grey horse, the one when you sneered when I bet it?"

"And you didn't mention my $1.83 luncheon or the two-bits you borrowed to buy a hot dog."

"You were right on the admission because our two passes are tax free."

"But how about the bill at the end of the month because I have to present our Diner's Club card so we can eat on the way home?"

THE FINAL BLOW, however, was the postscript.

"P. S. — But I do want to thank you for slipping that $10 bill in your shoe."

"So that, after losing every race, you can proudly hand it to me, on our arrival home, as 'my share of your winnings.'"

Adolescence is that time between pigtailed and cocktails says Dan Bennett.

STAN DELAPLANE:

'In a Little Grass Skirt'

Coffee this day beside the beach at Waikiki. Under the coconut palms we have the morning lula lesson. Most hotels give these lessons for free on the sound principle that "the more they shake, the more we make."

Music comes from the loudspeaker. "She's just a little brown girl in a little grass skirt, in a little grass skirt in Hawaii..."

ONE, TWO, THREE and, ONE, two, three and," says the hula lady. "Hands make the grass skirt and ONE, two three and."

It improves the taste of the morning coffee. All the serious tourist ladies, barefoot, making with their hula hands the "All the ama ama come swimming to me..."

MAID AND MATRON. In Bermudas, semi-shorts or demibikinis.

"... through the Islands' wonderlands, she's broken all the kane's hearts..."

In 1820, Missionary Hiram Bingham gazed on such Hawaiian sights and declared:

"THE APPEARANCE of destitution, degradation and barbarism... was appalling. Some of our number with gushing tears, turned away from the spectacle."

But — "others with firmer nerve continued their gaze, but were ready to exclaim: 'Can these be human beings! How dark and comfortless their state of mind and heart! How imminent the danger to the immortal soul shrouded in this deep pagan gloom!'"

OUR HULA CLASS does not look gloomy at all, the lotus eaters.

They have a dreamy look in the eyes. Of sun-kissed days and moonlit nights and breaking all the kane's hearts.

On Sunday, we have church services instead of hula lessons. I think our hula class had better get with it. They are a sinful-looking bunch.

WITH HAWAII only 4 1/2 hours and $99 away from the Mainland.

land, the land of the hula is pouring out charm to fill every hotel and boarding house.

Tourist business is number 3 in the Islands — after sugar and pineapple.

Last year, the Islands entertained 170,000 tourists.

The estimate for 1975 is 3 million.

SURVEYORS OF American dreams say that Hawaii is the place most of us would most like to go. The survey is so strong that most competitions offer it as first prize — it is sure-fire.

In this hotel alone, today, we have a group of General Electric salesmen winners — they overshot the quota and Paradise is their reward; 25 winners of Kaiser Aluminum's backyard barbecue contest that started with 10,000 hopefuls, and the Salvation Army.

WE ARE OFFERED hulas in grass skirts and luau pigs in formal dress of tulle leaves. Sun-tan, sunburn, ukulele lessons, free movies of the islands, orchid leis, surfboard and canoe and catamaran rides — complete with dinner and a before-hand rum punch.

Over all blows the trade wind, soft and steady as when it blew on the original missionaries (61 male and 67 female) — the first tourists.

SAID REV. HIRAM Bingham: "Can such beings be civilized? Can they be Christianized? Can we throw ourselves upon these rude shores, and take up our abode for life among such people, for the purpose of training them for Heaven?"

He then walked down the gang-plank and spent 21 fruitful years.

QUOTES

NEW YORK — A city weights and measures inspector quoted by butcher Manny Seligman in a shakedown for month payments in the short-weight scandal:

"If you don't pay up you will have to give 16 ounces to the pound, and you know you can't exist that way."

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

"It was a fine dinner and the kids enjoyed their grandparents but it's still too early to be thankful... what with heavy traffic and you driving!"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Traveling Same Route

HOLLYWOOD — Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne were last "preserved for posterity" in 1931, in MGM's "The Guardsman." It was their one and only movie. They're traveling the same route again, this time under educational auspices on 16mm film, for the Ford Foundation.

They will stage their play, "The Visit," current at LA's Biltmore Theatre, just as it is — on a theatre stage — for the Ford cameras. The film will be used to teach acting to students who win Foundation scholarships in dramatics.

METRO IS ROMANCING Robert Ryan to "Go Naked in the World" with Gina Lollobrigida, and I've got several bets going that our Shurlock Office censors will never let them get away with this title. Eleanor Parker and Robert Preston will play Papa and Mama in Warner Brothers' "Dark At the Top of the Stairs," the roles originated on Broadway by Teresa Wright and Pat Hingle. It precedes the movie version of "The Music Man" on Preston's program.

ROLLING DOWN Deheny Drive to other ayem from my hilltop hideaway to 20th — Fox, I had to pull my car over to the side when another driver came screaming around a curve, slammed her brakes on, jumped out of her sports car, and helped a young actor push his stalled car up the hill. The helping hands were none other than Katharine Hepburn's!

Red Skelton says he won a bet that Charlton Heston would win that chariot race in "Ben-Hur" — on account Red caught Heston practicing in "The Ten Commandments"!

NORA EDDINGTON Haymes, mother of Errol Flynn's daughters Deirdre and Rory, is losing her grief over Errol's death in work. She just signed in as social secretary for Milton Stevens, the Chicago manufacturer whose wife, Gwen Nesbitt, sued for divorce last August.

Edith Bernauer, Evelyn Rudie's mother, announces in a current movie fan magazine, that a lad named Eddie Richmond is "Evelyn's only official fan club president." Edith also lists the home address on Hollywood Boulevard where mail can reach Richmond. By a strange coincidence it is also the home address of Edith and Emery Bernauer and daughter, Evelyn Rudie!

SHIRLEY MACLAINE on the phone: "I've got good news and bad news today, neighbor. Good — Fox tells me that 'Can-Can,' the picture Frank Sinatra and I just finished, will be the first musical in YEARS to be released with a running time of less than two-and-a-half hours. Bad — a half-acre of the mountain in back of my house just slipped and flopped into my backyard. 'Bye, now!'"

A fan mag photographer just goofed off on his prize assignment of the month. His editor packed him off for a weekend on Rock Hudson's yacht to shoot a layout titled "A Weekend on the Rock Hudson's Yacht."

The poor guy didn't get a single shot. He spent all his time being seasick.

Overheard at a Hollywood hoedown: "That charming young lady over there in the low-cut gown could never feel out of things, could she?"

CHANNEL CHATTER — I've been getting my kicks to and from work all week turning on my radio and listening to the local Los Angeles disk jockeys blast Life Magazine for printing Ed McKenzie's "expose" of the deejay payolas. Theme: McKenzie is a sorehead who isn't working at the disk jockey trade any more because he's untalented.

Millie Perkins planed off to New York to see her boy friend Dean Stockwell do "The Killers" on TV. Why didn't she just stay home and see him do it on her own TV set? Silly question. Because she'd rather see him LIVE than TAPED, that's why.

REYNOLDS ALUMINUM and Bill Moss are moving in with a trio of one-hour specials, starring Moss's wife, to toss opposite the Adventures in Paradise series on "that rival network" and take some of the wind out of Gardner McKay's sails. They'll be musicals and there'll be a lot of dancing in the shows because Mrs. Moss is Ann Miller.

Sitting upon the dais at the Hollywood Masquers Club next Friday (Dec. 4) to say nice things about the honored guest, Steve Allen, will be Judy Holiday, Jimmy McHugh, Pat O'Brien, Kirk Douglas and Mickey Rooney, and rightly so since Steve has always said nice things about them on his TV shows.

JAMES MASON is the producer of a Hollywood little-theatre production (sort of a switch on another long-run local melodrama called "The Drunkard") starring his wife, Pamela Mason, and daughter, Portland Mason. This villain — still — pursued — her item is titled "Murder in the Red Barn."

It's been running three months. Business hasn't been so good but Mason doesn't care because he'll get all his investment back when CBS-TV telecasts it as a February special. James will come out from his producer's mask at that time to replace Pamela's "legitimate leading man and to co-star with his wife and daughter."

DEBORAH KERR, one of the few top TV holdouts in the film firmament, says she'll weaken if some scripter comes up with a solid version of "Hedda Gabler".... Which reminds me of the time Tallulah Bankhead was rehearsing for her television of "Hedda Gabler."

The young director, a newcomer who was somewhat in awe of Miss Bankhead, finally got up the courage to say, "Miss Bankhead, would it be possible for you to play the part with a little more Gabler in it and a little less Bankhead?" To which Tallulah retorted, "Look, dahling — never mess around with TALENT!"

LELAND HAYWARD is halting Henry Fonda and Julie Andrews to star in his Jan. 31 special, "The Fabulous Fifties."

Which could mean these two top stars will be reprising scenes from their smash stage hits of "The Fabulous Fifties," "Mister Roberts" and "My Fair Lady."

Rose Marie tells me she flunked her test to replace Alice Lon as Lawrence Welk's Champagne Lady because the bubbles she blew were too soapy....

Rose also remarked: "I just heard the most awful story about one of the local ad agencies. They fired a highly decorated World War II veteran and for the most ridiculous reason — the guy just didn't wanna do any work!"

Far East Round-Up

ABOARD THE SOUTH PACIFIC EXPRESS—On this four-engine chugger between Manila and San Francisco, there are riding five Air Force widows and their dependents. A C-47 with 15 men out of Clark Air Force Base didn't make the take-off over in Taiwan. Their bodies and relics now start the long, sad ride back home.

Losses in upholding American foreign policy are certainly not what they were during the shooting, but they have not ceased and are not much recognized at home. I would say that the salient impression of a trip to the Far East relates to this — the unsung dedication of men doing their country's bidding far from home, with little recognition.

IT IS HARD to imagine our beatnik generation slogging in the smelly swamps and bouncing over dusty, twisting roads in hard-seat jeeps and tanks with not very congenial Orientals as students. Yet, as a guess, one-third of the work of American enlisted men and junior officers is as instructors with the MAAG units, showing not very-pleasing Orientals how to use American equipment and military tactics.

It is not work that your high school son would volunteer to do back home. In the Far East he is a superior being. For the most part he accepts the obligation and lets the privileges go. The Far East traveler is likely to come home with more faith in the American future than he took with him.

THE TRAVELER will need a recharge of confidence because along the way he's likely to hear about sad sack characters like Rep. Charles O. Porter (D., Ore.) who made an All-American fool of himself from the Golden Gate to the Bamboo Curtain.

Rep. Porter, according to the current Congressional Record, is a member of the Post Office-Civil Service Committee of the House. This is about as low in House activities as a member can get — but the Honorable Porter strutted the Far East stage in the oversized hat of Napoleon and in the trailing frock coat of supercolossal statesmanship.

THERE WERE Admirals and Generals, American as well as Allied, who at first thought the Congressman had come to learn something. Not so! He came to tell them about their business. There were civilian officials who resorted to short, ugly names in describing the Congressman's bad manners and swelled head.

At one point he figuratively shook a forefinger under the chins of Nationalist Chinese top officers, whose guest he was, and told them they weren't speak their minds for fear of being shot next morning. Rep. Porter's idea of an American ally, according to his words and deeds, is Fidel Castro. Luckily, hard behind Porter along the Far East trails were Senators Prescott Bush and Hugh Scott, who may rub out the dreadful caricature of a Congressman, as depicted by Porter.

ACROSS THE STRAIT from Taiwan lies Red China, which is well into a 15-year program that will make her the industrial equal of Great Britain. This same Red China, with about half a billion population, is still officially at war with the United States and the UN allies, is sworn to capture Taiwan and is almost daily striving to break out of its borders into some other country.

Nobody can contemplate this dynamic, rowdy nation without wondering about the American policy of defense-only. In five or ten years, Red China will be a lot harder to contain. It will take a much bigger war to defeat her. By every American tradition, we should not be in this power-politics game at all. But by every tradition and every self-interest, we ought not to play a game in such a manner that will lose it for us. We need something better than a defense-only policy.

AN AGGRESSIVE policy, short of preventive war, would be to start now to organize an Asian Commonwealth to counter the growth of Red China. The vast, overpopulated, material-rich, production-possible arc that runs from the northern islands of Japan to the Anglo-Saxon bastions in Australia and New Zealand can be made to hold back Red China on the Pacific front.

The project, of course, needs American approval and sponsorship — but it needs rather less American money and manpower than more of the same. In Asia, as in Europe, it almost comes down to undoing the follies of World War II, by restoring Japan and Germany as the dominant powers. We must ourselves go home while we still have our financial shirts and before we are forced to exploit these countries to pay ourselves back.

FINALLY, WE HAD better junk our World War II slogans of Thanksgiving turkey and Four Freedoms for the Hottentots. The need in the non-Communist Far East, as a transient reporter sees it, is for stable governments that protect life and property. Today your life is no safer in the Philippines than it is in Harlem, while the chance of a Boy Scout returning a lost purse in South Korea is about the same as in Jersey City.

After we cast out the creeps and gangsters from our societies, we will see much more clearly to write freedom-loving mottos for the schoolroom wall.

Fetes and Dedication Top News

By AL NEHL

Last Saturday's barbecue steak dinner was attended by 70 folks, mostly those who are here for the season with some weekend guests. After dinner, Gus and Lucette Barth showed slides of their Byam Caravan trip through Mexico.

This Sunday from 9 to 11 a.m. the men in the park will start a series of breakfasts as in former seasons.

This week, manager Rex Thompson installed a new billiard table in the room built for it. As was expected, the new table is quite popular though some of the old timers admit that it has been many years since they played pool.

This week's winners in the park shuffleboard competition were Mrs. Kit Carson and by Mrs. Lucette Barth, Mrs. Jean Bradbury, chairman of the entertainment committee has announced plans for the Thanksgiving dinner, Nov. 26 at 2:30 p.m. A complete dinner without cranberry sauce (may be apple sauce).

Mr. and Mrs. James English have arrived and will occupy the MacCrea trailer. Jim retired after 30 years on the San Francisco police force.

Skyscraper

Edward Treffinger, owner of Mountain View Trailer Park in Santa Monica, has come up with a plan for parking trailers in the heart of the metropolitan areas of big cities. His plans call for a 10-story structure housing 200 trailers in apartment arrangement. At the present time he is waiting for the green light for his $2 million dollar project from the State Division of Housing and the necessary zone variance from Los Angeles.

The plans call for a structure with a well in the center, and are so complete that the Otis Elevator Company has blueprints drawn for specially designed elevators to lift the mobile homes to parking levels within the building. All mobile homes will face out, giving access to light and view. Units would be located on spaces 65 by 32 feet with choice corner spaces more than triple that area. Some 2½ acres of parking and basement garage will take care of the autos.

Suntown

Suntown is going to celebrate Thanksgiving in the good old fashioned manner this year. Starting with a Thanksgiving Eve dance to the music of Stricklin's Orchestra in the specially decorated hall, the committee has planned a full day of entertainment for "turkey day."

The committee headed by Medora Hyatt, chairman, consists of Elinore Randall, Vera Stoddard, Lou Laursen, Ginger Abbott, Gertrude Melius, Pat Siman, Helen Diebenow, Ethel Baker and Lillian McLennen.

The Suntown Men's Club will put on a special program after the dinner. Curtis Miller, Jack Hyatt and Al Nehl are planning this project and have promised an exciting and entertaining evening.

Tramview

Tramview Trailer Park held the formal opening of the new recreation center this week with a capacity crowd attending. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burke, Jr. attended the ceremony, representing his father who is in the Huntington Pasadena Hospital recovering from surgery.

Mildred Burch, hostess of Tramview this season, was mistress of ceremonies and was assisted by a trio consisting of Norma Armstrong, Katie Steever, and George Warfel, who sang "The Star Spangled Banner" as Ebby Hansen and Walter Hagermeister raised the 50 star flag.

The flag and pole were given to the park owner by the residents and stands at the southwest corner of the pool.

Our honored guest was the charming Miss Marjorie Rambeau, a veteran of stage and screen, who gave us a short talk. After which our manager, Mr. Parkhurst pinned a lovely corsage on her shoulder.

Others introduced were Stanley Long, a business associate of Burke's. Mrs. Burch gave a short history of the park and five "charter members" who starting their trailer living in Tramview in 1947 were introduced, Ida McDonald, Mabel and Charles Guss have never missed a season since, Frank Watson had missed only two because of illness and Mrs. Lena Ward, who now lives at Smoke Tree Park.

Delicious homemade cookies and punch were served by Betty Streck, chairman of the party, and her large group of hosts and hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Parkhurst wish to express their sincere thanks for our visitors, the lovely flowers, to our guest star, to Mr. and Mrs. Burke, Jr., Stanley Long, and to everyone assisting in making our Grand Opening the success that it was.

SCHOOLS SEEKING JUNIOR HIGH SITE

Palm Springs Board of Education members have paved the way for acquisition of a new junior high school site in Section 11.

The board authorized schools Supt. Dwight Twist to proceed with investigation of the possibility of purchasing a 25-acre site in the north side of Palm Springs.

Meanwhile, board members proceeded with acquisition plans for a new elementary school site in the California Dream Home tract and initiated action for the purchase of property adjoining the Desert Hot Springs elementary school.

Plans for the development of a new junior high school were incorporated in a mammoth school expansion and building program financed by a $4,160,000 bond issue recently approved by school district residents.

School officials explained that the new junior high will not be needed for another two or three years, but they recommended acquisition of the site "as soon as possible" because of continually rising real estate values.

Board of Education President B. H. Poliak said the board was guided by a Palm Springs City master plan which suggested future locations for local schools. The new junior high will eventually serve the northern portion of the resort area.

Dr. Twist also reported that he met with Country Club Estates land owner Jack Silverman and a specially appointed team of three land appraisers, who are expected to agree on a price for the 10-acre elementary school site this week.

Silverman and the board have agreed, on record, to abide by the appraisal value of the site in negotiations for the purchase of the land.

The board has also set forth plans for purchase of land opposite the Desert Hot Springs School, with a view toward expansion of school facilities.

Twist has already filed a formal request asking the County Board of Supervisors to close a street between the school site and the new property, located directly across the street, so that both parcels can be joined as one plot of land.

New Characters In Ulcer Alley

There's a whole new cast of characters in Ulcer Alley now—the Damon Runyon people are getting old, and in their places we see young intellectuals with beards who have psychiatrists and whose psychiatrists have psychiatrists.

When I started on this beat 17 years ago, the "characters" were Broadway Rose, Commodore Dutch, Feets Edson, "Fancy Phil," and C. Cambridge Green, whom Runyon called "the Doorway Cartier."

And now? One character would be Hari Jaaj, who always wears a turban. Son of an Indian importer, he'll greet you at El Morocco with "Hi, what's the action?" Some people spying the headgear feel he must be a Maharajah, which he isn't and doesn't claim. "I'm a devout Moslem," he explains.

"Maybe he's bald," the Broadway mob suggests.

Milton Berle was the gag-a-second king of the comics for a decade, but Milton's made it and is quieter now — and it's Jack Carter, Jack E. Leonard, Alan King, and Joey Bishop who shoot the fasties across the tables at Max Asnas' Stage Delicatessen, which is perhaps what Dave's Blue Room was just yesterday.

Long ago — but not so long ago, at that — one composer they'd be pointing out was Larry Hart.

Now maybe it's Julie Styne, popping into the Broadway for another fast look at "Gypsy," or Robert Merrill, leaving the Shubert after giving another brief listen to "Take Me Along."

And the star they're lined up along Shubert Alley to see pushing from his dressing room, with a scarf around his throat and a pretty girl on his arm, rushing over to his suite at the Astor...

Not Al Jolson, not John Barrymore, Jackie Gleason! Runyon's Harry the Horse would be amazed about the names of our hangouts nowadays... Upstairs at the Downstairs, Downstairs at the Upstairs, Bon Soir, the Little Room at the Little Club, the Blue Angel, Danny's Hideaway, Trader Vic's, the Harway, the Four Seasons, the Forum of the 12 Caesars, Luchow's, and Sardi's East and Sardi's West, and of course the Roundtable, Upstairs at the Roundtable, Embers, Basin Street East, Eden Roc, the Composer, the Columns, and the old and still reliable Lindy's, Reubens, Latin Quarter and Copacabana.

Not one simple name in the bunch, like Sam's or Mike's! Some of the oldsters maintain that there isn't any night life in New York any more — and that person should try the 21 bar when it's two or three deep at midnight, or attempt to squeeze into a seat at the Blue Angel at 1 or 2 a.m. when Shelley Berman, or Mike and Elaine, or Phyllis Diller is starring.

And though some of those in our cast of characters have departed, a few hardy souls still manage to make it almost every night.

Rolls-Roycing around the town go Billy Rose and Gypsy Rose Lee, Joan Crawford swings into the Colony or Voisin or Le Pavillon in a wave of glamour. Nicky Blair's at the Blair House drinking up his own merchandise. Almost every night I check in with Bob Ritchie, dean of the playboys, at John Perona's El Morocco Round Table.

One of the nice legends is that Bob, the discoverer and former manager of Jeanette MacDonald, has never had a serious romance except with her long ago — and that his torch for her still burns. Bob must look with amusement upon the younger set today — upon "the Greeks," "the Texans," the Beverly Aadlands.

He can sit around now with another old timer (me) and mutter about the terrible state of everything.

A girl was in El Morocco the other night in gold trousers. "She shouldn't be here in that," I commented sagely.

"She shouldn't be here," Bob said.

Time whips along. Errol Flynn and Ty Power are no more, and Tommy Manville sometimes sleeps right through his after-dinner nap and doesn't wake up until next month. Whatever happened to Jimmy Kelly's, and the Diamond Horseshoe, and Rogers' Corner, and the Hurricane, and the Black Cat, and the Club 18 and the Kit-Kat? And the Paradise and the Villa Vallee and...? But never mind. Next year or so, it'll be whatever happened to us?

PURDUM'S SPOUSE STILL IRRITATED, FILES FOUR SUITS

LONDON (UPI)—Actor Edmund Purdum's wife has vowed to press her legal battle in four cities on two continents against her estranged husband until she wins satisfaction.

Mrs. Alice Purdum told a London Daily Mail reporter: "In Naples, I am bringing an action alleging adultery and assault by my husband."

"In Rome, I am accusing Edmund of stealing my American citizenship papers, of beating me, and not paying alimony. There, too, I am repeating all my charges lodged with the Naples court."

"In London, I am applying for legal separation on the grounds of adultery and physical cruelty, bringing an action for assault and asking for support."

"In New York, I am accusing Edmund of stealing my citizenship papers."

And she added: "I shall never rest until the suits have ended to my satisfaction."

People in the U.S. and Canada now spend $3,715,000 a day, $30,076,000 a week, and $1,563,942,000 a year for daily and Sunday newspapers.

TRUTHS EVIDENT IN 'ROSE TATTOO'

By GEORGE LAINE

There are a great many truths—morals, if you must—jammed into the nearly two hour running time of "The Rose Tattoo," the Tennessee Williams play which opened Wednesday and which will be featured each Thursday, Friday and Saturday (until further notice) in El Paseo Theater.

The PlayerStage troupe of 18 players sometimes belabors, sometimes glosses these truths—but largely they bring a sudden and quite believable import to the tale.

THE USE OF THE word "tale" doesn't mean that "Rose Tattoo" is a work impossible of reasoning belief. It is improbable, however, and therefore sets forth a task so Herculean for a cast as to almost deny its fulfillment forthwith.

And it is thus to the credit of the PlayerStagers that the work jells as nearly as it does.

Directed by Martin Beck—with some husky and notable assistance from Bill Milner—the "Tattoo" is a strange and unusual story of a woman's predilection for her dead husband. An awkward situation, the play thus makes some severe and continuous demands on its players in the interest of general believability.

VERKINA BECK, Marianne Roberts, Mike Tomack and Beck himself turn in good to excellent performances—depending wholly on the portion of the play and the caliber of support with which they find themselves.

In fact, Miss Roberts finds herself in a very precarious position. Having now delivered excellent and understanding performances in "Visitor to a Small Planet" and "Mooney's Kid Don't Cry," she must now at least equal those works. On Wednesday night, she did better. She surpassed those previous efforts and served notice that she will be one of Southern California's actresses to watch in ensuing months.

Beck's work appeared overall good although the fire demon-ed in Mrs. Beck's effort was lacking in his. Tomack appeared much more relaxed than in his "Small Planet" work.

THERE ARE SOME several facets of the play, however, that seem to work negatively on the total result.

One would have to be the almost absurd length of the work. An hour and 50 minutes of actual running time is most too long for all drama save some of the more overwhelmingly important Shakespearean plays.

And, too there is the matter of a sharp dropoff in quality of performance, of sincerity of effort once having bypassed the four major roles.

EVEN THE BRASSY pair of women overdid their roles and they were the best of the support. The three housewives left much to be desired and it is the personal opinion of this viewer that the children could have been omitted from the PlayerStage effort to provide nothing but the benefit of the play.

Speaking of cuts, the frightfully long first act would have also profited by "adaptation" to the local need.

It is not simply beneficial to seek out and make these cuts, it is the bounden responsibility of the director to cut—with prudence and judgment—those segments of any play that seem to slow, to divert from the main purpose he is striving toward.

ON WEDNESDAY, we saw the initial effort on the part of the PlayerStage troupe. They delivered a sometimes even sensitive-performance.

In fact, a lot of shows have opened out of town with not nearly the finesse and polish demonstrated in "The Rose Tattoo."

THANKSGIVING, 1959

By Susan Elliott

6th Grade, Cahulla School

Today, in this atomic age, it sometimes seems as if we are too busy to fully appreciate Thanksgiving. We say grace only before Thanksgiving dinner, but are we sincere, or do we do it because "it's the right thing to do?"

I think we ought to stop and give thanks every day, whether we are traveling or at home in an easy chair. A good example of this was a picture on a Saturday Evening Post cover quite a few years ago. It showed an elderly lady and her grandson saying grace at a crowded cafe. Truck drivers were clustered about the pair, and outside was a busy city, but she still took time to appreciate her blessings. Do you?

THANKSGIVING

By Kevin Crooks

3rd Grade, Cielo Vista

One cold day when the Pilgrims came to America, I was the juicy one the Pilgrims wanted the most of all. I am a big turkey, and I was sitting up in a high tree near them.

I was getting very tired of watching my brothers and sisters getting roasted and baked. I nearly screamed every time I saw one get put in the oven. My mother said, "Be quiet! It is an honor to be eaten by those good people. We are helping to keep them from starving."

Honorable Mention

THE PILGRIMS

By Marcella Howeth

3rd Grade, Cielo Vista School

In 1621 the Pilgrims landed in America. They came across the Atlantic Ocean. I am one of those Pilgrims. My name is Priscilla. I'm a Pilgrim girl.

We sailed four months on the Mayflower, our little ship. We called America the "New England." Many people died that first winter. Some of my friends died too. I'm thankful that I did not die.

We were almost out of food. One day some Indians came. They were friendly. They showed us how to plant corn and many other things. Then we had more than ever.

One day we wanted to thank them for helping us. We asked some of them. Almost a hundred came. The women made most of the food. When we saw all the Indians we knew that we wouldn't have enough.

We saw some bringing deer and turkey.

This day of Thanksgiving became a holiday. Now people all over our United States have this special day of Thanksgiving. This makes us Pilgrims happy.

WHAT I AM THANKFUL FOR

By Jean Owens

Grade 4, Cielo Vista

We should be thankful for our beautiful schools and the wonderful teachers and the principals that help us learn. I am grateful that we may worship in our own religion and we may go to our own church.

I'm thankful for food and fruit to eat. I'm thankful for our doctors and nurses that help us get well. I'm thankful for our home that we live in to keep us from the rain.

I'm most thankful that we live in the United States.

I'm very thankful for my clothes that we wear to keep us warm. We should be thankful for our wonderful parents that take good care of us. I'm most thankful for the beautiful world and the trees, flowers, and the grass and pets.

Thanksgiving is here at last. Time to think of the pilgrims in the past.

Time to feast on turkey and such.

And eat the pumpkin pie we like so much.

We've got to feel how the pilgrims made their way

Through the stormy seas, day after day.

They made friends with each

Indian band,

And they taught them how to plant the land.

AGRICULTURAL CENSUS STARTED

1959 Agricultural Census is now under way in this area. Mrs. John M. Blatt, crew leader for eastern Riverside County, announced today.

Census enumerators recently completed an intensive training course, and Mrs. Jessie Conroy has been named to cover this area.

THE TRAINING course covered the use of the census questionnaire, census definitions, interviewing and map reading. Emphasis was placed on the importance of locating every farm and obtaining complete and accurate information.

Farmers and ranchers are urged to complete the agricultural questionnaire if they receive it in the mail, and hold it until the census enumerators call. If no questionnaire was received, the enumerator will secure all information.

INFORMATION collected will provide an inventory of all farms in the United States, Mrs. Blatt said.

It will show the amount of land used for crops and pasture, quantity of crops harvested, number of poultry and livestock on farms, and kinds of equipment used.

Planners Eye Purchase of 80-Acre Parcel

Acquisition of two 40-acre parcels of land which have been declared surplus by the U.S. Navy Department, for addition to the county park system, was recommended by the county planning commission Monday. The board of supervisors asked the parks superintendent to consider the proposal and submit a detailed plan for development and its cost.

One of the 40-acre parcels is located at the south city limits of Cabazon on the south side of Esperanza Avenue at the south end of Orange Street. The other is a half-mile north of Dillon Highway about four miles southeast of Desert Hot Springs.

The commission recommended that a development program be extended over a period of years with facilities being made available as use of the sites increases. Uses suggested were picnicking, camping, riding and hiking.

Post Offices Seek Carrier, Clerk Employees

The U. S. Civil Service has announced that applications are being taken now for examinations for postal clerks and carriers for Post Offices at Palm Springs, Palm Desert, Twentynine Palms and Indio.

L. E. Messenger, examiner-in-charge for Civil Service at the Indio Regional office said that examinations for the positions will be given in each of the communities Dec. 5, and after the New Year.

Starting salaries for the jobs is $2 an hour with automatic increases to $2.42 hourly. The Civil Service announced that postal employees receive benefits including vacations ranging from two and a half to five weeks yearly, liberal sick leave with full pay, low-cost life insurance and retirement benefits, plus advancement opportunities.

Applicants must be 18 years of age or older, American citizens, and residents of the mail-delivery areas of the post-offices listed. Application blanks for qualifying examinations are available at the post offices.

YUCCA VALLEY — Queen of the spring "Grubstake Days" here will be chosen from a field of nine teen-age contestants in the elementary school cafeteria here at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The judging of the local high school lovelies, ranging in age from 15 to 18 years, will be done by three out of town critics (like in art) of youthful charm.

T. C. Strong, publicity chairman of the annual Chamber of Commerce event, announced — after the beauty contest — that Walter Reed, world-champion fast-draw artist who won his split-second title here in last year's "Grubstake," will challenge all gun-slicks to a fast draw contest with a $2,500 pot at the end of the blurred-hand rainbow. The Chamber antes up the winner's pot.

Fast-draw expert Reed has what's known as accelerated motor innervation — which on television oat - epics means he's "mighty fast."

"Grubstake Days" will be held May 13-16 next year. The Queen will grace preliminary activities leading up the big event.

Army Slight Choice Over Navy's Grids

Odds makers Install Cadets 6-Point Choice

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The Army and Navy teams arrive in this city of brotherly love today for their 60th football clash, which is shaping up as another no-holds-barred brawl.

With the heavy part of their training behind them, the future generals and admirals will work out briefly today and then return to their respective quarters to "sweat out" Saturday's 1:30 p. m. e.s.t. kickoff at Municipal Stadium.

BOTH TEAMS drilled Thursday, the Cadets at West Point following the annual Thanksgiving home base at Annapolis. And both, as expected, put the finishing touches on their passing game.

Working in sweatshirts, the first three Army teams ran against Navy defenses and brushed up their timing on running and passing plays. Accompanying quarterback Joe Caldwell and halfback Bob Anderson in the first team backfield were sophomores George Kirschenbauer and Al Rushatz. Glen Adams, the second team leftback who has an injured knee, is the only Army player of doubtful status.

MEANWHILE, NAVY Coach Wayne Hardin kept emphasizing to his players that they'll have to play out for 60 minutes if they expect to beat Army. Hardin said that he thought that line play would determine the winner.

Odds makers regard Army a little stronger in all departments and as a result list the Cadets as six point favorites.

RUSSIA'S CAGERS SPLIT IN FIRST GAMES IN NEW YORK NEW YORK (UPI) — Russia's touring basketball teams headed for Peoria, Ill., today after gaining a split in their opening engagements at Madison Square Garden.

In their next appearance at Peoria Sunday, the Russian men will face the classy Peoria Caterpillars while the women's team will play Nashville Business College.

Packers Score 24 Points in 22 Minutes to Win

DETROIT (UPI) — The Green Bay Packers scored 24 points in the first 22 minutes to defeat the Detroit Lions 24-17 Thursday in the second game in a row where the Lions lost while outgaining opponents.

Detroit rolled up 354 yards to 242 for the Packers and had 21 first downs to only 12 for Green Bay.

But the Packers took advantage of three fumbles for two touchdowns and a field goal, and marched 65 yards in six plays for the second time this season.

Last Sunday, Detroit lost to the Chicago Bears 24-14 while gaining more than double the yardage Chicago could muster.

MRS. AUSTIN G. McMANUS, one of the desert area's great polo enthusiasts presented the trophy to the winning Eldorado Polo Club last Sunday. Here she is shown with Eldorado captain, William Tevis and his polo pony following the game against

San Francisco last Sunday. The Eldorado four-some will meet the Menlo Circus team next Sunday in a thrill packed match at the Eldorado Polo Club. The public is invited to the game which begins at 2:00 p. m.

Indian Teams To Be Honored By Booster Club

Clare Ballagh's Palm Springs High School Indians, who this year proved that much could be done through teamwork, will be honored at a Boosters Club dinner at 6:30 p.m., Monday, Dec. 14, at the High School cafeteria.

Tickets are on sale at $2.50 each, and the purchase of a second ticket by a local resident will sponsor one of the team members at the dinner. Tickets are available from Boosters Club members, Ramon Drug and Desert Camera Shop. Donations from residents for members of the teams can be made to the High School office, in care of Dr. Charles Webster, principal.

SPEAKER FOR the program will be Elroy (Crazy-Legs) Hirsch, well known ex-professional football star with the Los Angeles Rams.

The dinner will honor both the Junior Varsity and the Varsity teams.

The Indians, who started out their season this year by losing their first four practice games, came back to win one, tie one, and lose two games in the Desert League play. The win against Indio did not count in the league play this year.

THEY LOST a tie for third place in league standings by being defeated by Twentynine Palms in the Indians homecoming game last Friday night.

Palm Springs Jayvees ended their season by copping the Jayvee crown.

The Indian Boosters Club was organized late this year to promote sportsmanship and fair play in the Desert Valley League.

Mainstays behind the organization are men like Dr. William Aikin, Marty Kenyon, Bob Sandefur, Hy Finerman and Ray Lockwood.

There are some 50 members of the Boosters Club and they meet on call at the Palm Springs Boys Club.

SMALL COLLEGE LEADERS NAMED

By EARL WRIGHT United Press International NEW YORK (UPI) — The Bowling Green (Ohio) Falcons, who achieved the first perfect record in their 41-year football history last week, today were voted 1959 national small college champions by the United Press International Board of Coaches.

Bowling Green (9-0) led the final balloting by the nationwide board by a wide margin. Coach Doyt Perry's Falcons received 23 first-place votes and a total of 407 points.

THE FALCONS, who scored 274 points and allowed only 83 while sweeping to the Mid-American Conference title, will receive a permanent trophy from UPI.

Mississippi Southern, named small college champion last year by the board, placed second in the final 1959 voting with five first-place votes and 247 points.

Middle Tennessee State, which has a Jan. 1 Tangerine Bowl date with Presbyterian (S.C.), wound up third with two first-place votes and 231 points. Delaware, beaten only by Bowling Green, placed

Syracuse, Texas Battle Shaping As Best of Bowls

United Press International While some folks nursed holiday indigestion, officials of the Cotton Bowl licked their chops today over the completed pairing for their New Year's Day game—top-ranked Syracuse vs. fourth-ranked Texas.

The Longhorns won the right to represent the Southwest Conference in the Dallas classic by turning back a fighting Texas A&M team, 20-17, Thursday in one of the greatest thrillers in the 66-year history of this storied series.

Texas, a 10-point favorite, picked up only one first down in the first half and left the field at intermission trailing 10-0.

A pair of touchdowns by Mike Dowdle enabled the Longhorns to open a 14-10 lead early in the final quarter but the Aggies went ahead again on quarterback Charley Milstead's second touchdown pass of the game—a five-yard flip to end Jack Estes.

Then, with less than 2½ minutes remaining, quarterback Bobby Lackey climaxed a 75-yard march by sneaking over from the one for the Longhorn's winning touchdown.

Two Problems To Face 49ers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The San Francisco Forty Niners will have two big problems facing them Sunday — Jim Brown and Bobby Mitchell.

Brown and Mitchell provide the one-two running punch for Cleveland's Browns, an Eastern Division powerhouse battling to jump back into the title race.

National Seniors Open Started In 1957; Tourney Here This Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is a history of the United States National Senior Open Golf Tournament, which will be played this year at Bermuda Dunes and Eldorado Country Clubs, Dec. 1-6.)

The United States Senior Open Golf Championship is the brainchild of the Athletic Round Table of Spokane, Wash., an organization that for 40 years has been sponsoring sporting and civic events for charity in the Pacific Northwest.

The first National Seniors Open was played over the Esmeralda Golf Course, Spokane, Wash., Aug. 15-18, 1917, with a purse of $12,500.

FRED WOOD, former Canadian Open Champion, defeated Gene Sarazen in a sudden death play-off after both had tied with 27 strokes for the 72-hole tournament and became the first champion of the National Seniors Open. Esmeralda Golf Course was again the scene for the second annual National Seniors Open Aug. 14-17, 1918, and again Gene Sarazen flirted with the title but was beaten by one stroke finishing with a 271. Willie Goggin, San Jose, scored a 270 to walk off with the championship. Prizes for the second year totaled $13,000.

THIS YEAR'S (third) tournament marks a change in location, designation, sponsorship and a healthy increase in prizes.

The third annual Senior Open Championship, sponsored by the National Senior Open Golf Association, will be played Dec. 1-6, 1959, in Palm Springs.

THE EVENT, with $20,000 in prizes for the pros plus amateur prizes, will be played over two courses. Bermuda Dunes Country Club and Eldorado Country Club will host the National Seniors. The first Seniors Open had a field of just 100 pros and amateurs. Indicative of the growth and importance of this event is the fact that a field of 540 of the nations outstanding senior pros and amateurs will be competing in this year's tournament.

Quintons End Tour Of Islands

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Quinton have returned from the Islands where Mr. Quinton attended a National Industry Convention at Honolulu, he being chairman of the board of California Edison Co. and Braemar secretary.

Jim and Estell Torrence arrived this week from their Longview, Wash., home and are established for the season here. Mr. Torrence recently acquired a building at Longview which he modernized to his insurance agency business. He is a director of Braemar.

Maggie Maysen's recent guests were Mrs. Sidney Iverson of Tulsa, Okla., also Mrs. May Vandever, who is tour director for Brownell Agency of Birmingham, Ala. She recently completed a summer tour of Europe and on her return stopped off at the Hawaiian Islands.

Arriving Thursday was William Arnold, Bramarite who claims Chicago as his home. He operates one of the largest accounting businesses in the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Thormeyer are established in their apartment here after a pleasant summer on Puget Sound.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Bernard have arrived and are enjoying the desert for the winter.

Dr. and Mrs. Herman Biermer are having their daughter and granddaughter for a visit. The daughter is Mrs. Helger Medearis of Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. James Gibbs and daughter of Seattle are here in the Gibbs apartment. Mr. Gibbs was County Commissioner of King County, Wash.

Lyle Cooper of Hollister, Calif., is here for a few days, resting up from the strain of building a new home at Hollister. He will return to his home and be back after Thanksgiving for the winter accompanied by Mrs. Cooper.

MARKETS READY, WAITING FOR POST-HOLIDAY SHOPPERS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Post-holiday food shoppers won't have any trouble finding a very wide variety of foods this weekend, for plentiful foods will suit every taste.

The big four in meats right now, and all wearing favorable price tags, are pork, turkeys and tender young chickens, beef and lamb. Nearly all cuts of pork are available at food markets, including hams, roasts, chops, bacon and sausage. In beef, you'll find excellent values in roasts and chuck steaks, while legs of lamb and chops are also abundant at most markets. Turkeys, large or family size, are available this weekend, and also broiler-fryers.

EGGS AND NUMEROUS kinds of dairy products are also favorably priced just now.

In fruits, apples, grapefruit, oranges, and lemons take the spotlight, also winter pears, avocados, and cranberries.

Vegetable bins will offer such oldtime favorites as potatoes, sweet potatoes, onions, squash, cauliflower, carrots, celery and lettuce.

THE BEST VALUES in fish will be shrimp, fish sticks, and canned tuna.

These are the weekend's best values across the nation. Now here's a closer look at plentiful foods in this area: Consumers will find lower priced plentiful

Congenerics Blamed

NEW YORK (UPI) — What causes a hangover? "Congenerics," says Jack Poust, who has waged a long campaign against these "residual impurities" in liquor.

Poust, a dealer in Italian brandy and vermouth, says one reason the Russians can apparently drink so much vodka without any ill effects is the fact that "good vodka, which goes through more refining . . . processes than any other distilled spirits, has been almost completely purified of congeners in the process."

Kites Plague Phones

SINGAPORE (UPI) — A total of 233 telephones were knocked out of commission by kites that got tangled in telephone lines during the first three weeks of Singapore's kite-flying season.

supplies of beef, pork and citrus fruits in many markets this week. A number of beef cuts are 2 to 3 cents a pound lower in California markets, and 1 cent a pound lower in the Northwest. Pork prices are mostly 2 to 3 cents a pound lower than last week. Moderate supplies of lamb are down about 1 cent a pound in California markets, while calf and veal are selling mostly unchanged in price.

SUPPLIES OF BUTTER are ample for the demand, and 1 cent a pound higher this week in California markets. Supplies of eggs have declined, and prices have advanced 1 to 2 cents a dozen in most Pacific Coast markets. Poultry continues in ample supply, with prices mostly unchanged.

The limited selection of plentiful fresh fruits and vegetables includes apples, citrus fruits, avocados, winter pears, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, lettuce, dry onions and tomatoes. In good supply are grapes, carrots, bunched vegetables, squash and sweet potatoes.

In fish, best buys include salmon, rockfish, cod, flounder, sablefish and halibut.

Despite the fact that Ethel Strebe has named her new Deep Well venture... Ethel's Hideaway... half of Palm Springs beat a path to her door for the Tuesday night opening... It's intended to be an intimate supper club... with Leo Rojo making with the music... and the decorations by Elrod are in the mood... and a contrast with the gardenias floating in the pink indoors pool... but there were wall-to-wall people Tuesday night... and it was difficult to see past them... Annabelle (Mrs. Y.D.) Markson was there... the Frank Scullys, Ray Corlisses, Ray Lusby... S. C. and Charlotte Hutchens... the George Wheelers...

And I'm sure I saw... Bob Simon, Winsome Courtney, Connie Barleau... the Tom Hulls, Edie King, the Bob Backstroms (cute new hairdo Ginny has)... the Clarence Woodmansees... Michael Ferrall and Mariann Walters (they'll be opening their Playhouse next door... early in January)... and Ethel Strebe in a Christmas red dress very happy about the whole thing... But... this is asking too much... as I said... half of Palm Springs was there...

Jane Russell movie star founder of WAIF-ISS... and frequent Palm Springs visitor... will be here tomorrow to attend the Peggy Hunt fashion show luncheon at El Mirador...

Ethel (Mrs. John) Luccarelli, who's been in the hospital all this time... finally went home in an ambulance this week... She's still in a cast... but she and Jack were planning to have Thanksgiving dinner with Vicki and Billy Malouf... as they have for so many years... It all started several years back when Billy was in the hospital and Ethel took him his Thanksgiving dinner... complete with candelabra... the three Malouf young people, Carol and Jerry and Gary (he flew in from Kansas City) were there... and the Russell Garners from Los Angeles with their children Pepe, Gail and Tucker... and Vicki's sister and brother-in-law the John Gabriels of Fullerton and their son Roy...

Vice Admiral Clarence Ekstrom... Commander of the Naval Air Force Pacific Fleet... will be the speaker when Southwest Commandery holds its annual dinner at the Racquet Club on December 4...

Maury Horner is on the National Board this year... as well as Commander in Illinois... and attended a Commandery meeting in San Francisco en route to Palm Springs... In past years he has been in charge of the meeting here... and of course the Horner home will be the scene of much activity that weekend... They'll have as their houseguests

Admiral and Mrs. Ben Paschal and Admiral Ford Taylor... and Admiral and Mrs. Howard Caldwell may fly down also... and there will be a poolside luncheon at the Horner home on Saturday. Tomorrow Louise and Maury will be in Yuma to attend the 4th Naval Air Weapons Meet at the USMC Air Station... and then go on to San Luis for the bull fights... Tom White... who came west with them... returned home yesterday... but will be back here for Christmas...

Just like those buffets that are so popular in Palm Springs... draw the highest powered cafeteria lines in the country (millionaires and such... I mean)... we had an expensive committee folding and addressing invitations for the Float Association's West Coast premiere at the Plaza next Wednesday night...

There was Barney Gengenbach (he's a war horse on a committee)... Muriel Fulton, Theresa Press, Elsa Addees and Kae Gannon... all folding and writing and stacking invitations to rush to the post office... and all of us should have been someplace else... doing something else... The reason we were there... is that we believe Palm Springs deserves to be represented in the Rose Tournament parade on New Year's Day... and we and the rest of the committee (which is headed by Tony Cosentino)... Martin Beck, Louise Steinbeck, Jessie Baumgardner, are working to achieve it... We have $10,000 to raise yet... and we need your help...

"During the winter months when much driving must be done with the lights on, California motorists should acquaint themselves with the legal requirements of night time driving. The California vehicle code provides that no vehicle shall be driven at any time with the parking lamps lighted except when the lamps are being used as turn signal lamps. Language of the Code is perfectly clear, yet many motorists continue to drive at dusk, dawn and in fog with only their parking lamps burning. Not only is this practice illegal, it is very dangerous. Too many accidents occur because one driver didn't see another car approaching or because he misjudged the speed at which the car was traveling. Using parking lamps as headlights contributes greatly to these accidents. Obey the law and live longer."

She Doesn't Mean Turkeys

Thanksgiving's for The Birds

By GAY PAULEY

UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UP) — "Thanks-wise, it has been quite a year," said our office wag, stealing the style of Madison Avenue. "Cranberry-wise, not so good."

I suppose he has something there. The blessing of another year of peace and a hint of a thaw in the cold war in itself should be enough.

But daggone, it is high time somebody counted the non-blessings—the big and small irritations, many of which could be removed if we worked at them. So Scrooge-like, here goes with one cantaleous femail's list of things for which she is NOT thankful this year:

—A cost of living that keeps climbing.

—The quick way in which last year's wardrobe got out-dated.

—The trend toward excess eye makeup, which makes some women look more like ghouls than sirens.

—The continuation of pointed toe shoes which have given some of us bumps where they never grew before and for the skinny heels which trap us in sidewalk gratings, cobblestone pavement and escalators.

—The way the food packagers continue to make getting at the contents a test of mechanical skill and infinite patience.

—The way architects and builders continue to make little closets little bedrooms, dining els, and miniature kitchens.

—The shortage of good domestics who take pride in their work.

—The way salesgirls continue to ignore us at a counter even as we stand there waving cash and our selection in hand.

—The disappearance of the handy-man who once was as much part of Americana as the village blacksmith.

—The way the appliance manufacturers turn out doo-dads and what-you-may-call-it which make cleaning twice as complicated.

—The habit of some cleaners in sending back garments with buttons crushed or warped, hooks and eyes bent, and linings inevitably ripped.

—The deterioration of manners in public places and their replacement with a "push and shove" philosophy.

—The outmoding of a couple of simple phrases — "please" and "Thank you."

—For the way they (the unidentified "they") each year start the Christmas season a little earlier.

—And for Thanksgiving, having lost its meaning to so many persons who wonder why the pilgrim fathers bothered to start it all.

Beef It Up

For a double-rich entree, make meatballs with canned soup sauce. Combine 1 pound of ground beef with 2 tablespoons each of bread crumbs and finely chopped onion, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and 2 tablespoons of condensed tomato rice or cream of vegetable soup. Shape into 16 meatballs. Brown in 2 tablespoons of shortening. Pour off drippings. Combine remainder of 1 can of soup with ½ cup of water, 1½ teaspoons of prepared mustard and 1 teaspoon of prepared horseradish. Pour over meatballs, cover and simmer 35 minutes, stirring occasionally. Serves 4.

Talk Turkey

Wild turkeys were an important food source for American Indians long before European settlers arrived. But today's turkeys are far different than their ancestors. The early birds were wiry, tough and sinewy because they had to fly to survive. It took many hours of careful cooking to make the meat tender enough to eat.

Ricardos Take Trip to Japan

Lucy's dream of acquiring a necklace of Oriental pearls nearly makes an unsuspecting swindler of guest star Robert Cummings, a pauper of Fred Mertz, a basket case of Ethel, a bachelor of ricky and a shambles of Japanese-American relations, in "The Ricardos Go To Japan," second of this season's "Westinghouse Lucille Ball-Desi Arnaz Show" comedy hours, Friday, Nov. 27 (CBS Television Network, 9-10 p. m. pst).

When Ricky accepts a personal appearance tour of Japan, Lucy and the Mertzes accompany him on the trip. Left to their own devices in a Tokyo hotel room, the girls make a fascinating discovery. By the very simple, subtle technique of ripping a hole in the paper wall, they learn that their next-door neighbor is Robert Cummings, in the Orient to make a film.

AFTER BOB recovers from the shock of having visitors enter his boudoir so unconventionally, he agrees to take the Ricardos and Mertzes sight-seeing and gives them some tips on Japanese bargains — among them, a good price on Oriental pearls. Ricky sticks to his guns and refuses to give Lucy money for the purchase, insisting that her $1.98 necklace looks just like the real thing.

Obviously, Lucy is not about to give up so easily, but there's just one little problem — where to get the money for the bargain pearls. Typically undaunted by this minor set-back, she enlists an unwilling Ethel in a scheme to "borrow" the money from Fred's money belt — which he happens to be wearing at the time.

SEVERAL CRISES and much hilarity later, the pearls are purchased by Cummings from his merchant friend and Lucy has realized her dream — which becomes a nightmare when Fred announces a plan that makes it imperative that the "loan" be returned.

Lucy has to ask Cummings to return the pearls and get the money back. A case of mistaken identity further complicates things and the whole drama winds up against the unlikely backdrop of a Geisha House.

EILEEN FARRELL, CAPP 'FEATURED'

Opera star Eileen Farrell, one of the outstanding sopranos of this era, and Al Capp, creator of the "Li'l Abner" comic strip, will be visited by Charles Collingwood "Person to Person" Friday, Nov. 27 (CBS Television Network, 10:30-11 p. m. pst). Miss Farrell, in private life the wife of Robert Reagan, a retired New York City policeman, will be visited in their Staten Island home; with them will be their two children, Robbie and Kathy. Capp will be visited in his New York City apartment.

Actress Mother Doesn't Help Marriage Cause

When Mike tries to crash high society and impress an eligible millionaire she winds up with two "mothers" too many and a "society mother" who upstages in an alcoholic haze during KTTV's "How To Marry a Millionaire," Friday, Nov. 27, 8 p. m. Channel Eleven.

Mike gets an invite to a swank yacht club where she and the girls meet Western millionaire Tommy Seaton who asks to meet Mike's parents. In an all-out effort to snare the very-eligible Tommy, all three girls frantically hire someone to pose as Mike's mother.

Two "mothers" too many are packed off when the apparently perfect society type, Gertrude Van Dyne, is hired from a talent agency. Gertrude fits the part to perfection and carries herself well but also carries a flask in her purse and is "too alcoholically commoved" to help Mike's cause.

Climbing Sierras Holiday Feature

Bill Burrud joins the Sierra Club to try his skill at the danger-packed sport in "Mountain Climbing" on "Holiday," Friday, Nov. 27, 7 p. m. KCOP, Channel 13.

Also seen are workers in the French Alps as they scale Mont Blanc to build the highest lift in the world.

Invention Test Discovers Plot

Testing an invention off the Panama coast, skin diver Mike Nelson (Lloyd Bridges) and two companions discover a mysterious submarine discharging a group of frogmen. The frogmen start an underwater survey and it becomes apparent that they are preparing a launching pad for a ballistic missile. Their target: the Panama Canal.

In mortal peril, Mike's party makes a desperate attempt to send out a warning signal to the Coast Guard in this dramatic episode of "Sea Hunt" seen Friday night, Nov. 27 at 10:30 p. m. over KRCA (Channel 4).

Sun Carriers Visit Flattop 44 Village Boys See USS Ticonderoga

Forty-four Desert carrier boys toured the aircraft carrier U. S. S. Ticonderoga Sunday in San Diego harbor.

A sidelight of the tour was noon luncheon in the El Cortez Hotel overlooking the bay.

The boys, escorted by an adult party headed by Desert Sun circulation aide George Davies, a retired Army colonel, "joined" the Navy for an afternoon of looking and listening.

THE PARTY DIVIDED into three groups, inspected plane hangars, the massive flight deck, Captain's bridge armaments, and officers' wardroom. In the wardroom the 11 to 14 year-old boys were given a "ration" of soft drinks. Plane elevators and launching equipment display and explanation was included in the tour of the floating air field.

The potential salts went to sea briefly, when the Ticonderoga dispatched a launch to ferry the group across San Diego channel from quayside to the boarding platform.

THE BOYS WERE taken on the tour which left here 8:30 Sunday morning for meeting a subscription increase of five per boy, plus a variable quota.

Boys who made the tour via Tanner chartered bus were: John Ross, Steve Powell, Barney Phillips, Terry Oistad, Mike Maffie, Richard Little, Jerry Thorpe, Don Knowlton, Don Frost, Jim Maidhof, Bob Frost, Doug Frost, Steve King, Tim Amberry, Doug Lilly, Ronnie Fessler, David McCall, Alex McDougall, Terry Alesandro, Paul Lubin, James Jessie, Willie Goree, Dave Miles, Vance Meadows, Duke Patane, Chris Anderson, Terry Corbell, George Jump, Eddie Olds, Robert Olds, Tom Muehlick, John Janiak, David Knox, Joe Maninko, Ralph Mediano, Monte Hammer, Donald Schultz, Jim Cromer, Bob Levin, Steve Sage, Fred Horner, Leonard Hammer, and Bob Paine.

GREETED ON DECK by a lieutenant commander representing the captain, the youths were escorted by officers ranging from a new Annapolis-graduate ensign to a veteran senior-grade Lieutenant.

DHS Recreation Group Listens To U.S. Expert

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — The Desert Hot Springs Recreation and Park District board met here Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the new Adult Center, to hear John J. Collier, National Recreation Association district representative, recommend new steps for the organization.

Collier came from his Los Angeles office to survey the park and recreation facilities here in a day-long tour.

HE SUMMARIZED his reactions in a joint meeting of the Recreation and Park district board and representatives of 13 other local organizations.

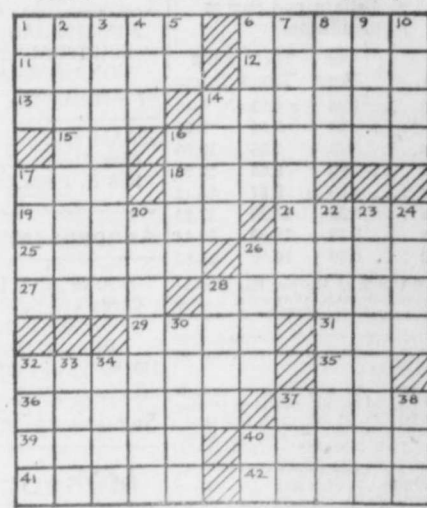

The recreation official termed the local adult recreation center "a real asset" to the community, helping the recreation closely to the community economy. Collier emphasized that the number of retirees increases yearly, and these people are attracted to communities which provide and publicize recreation facilities for them.

RECOMMENDATIONS included beautification of the new park, and then long-range plans with emphasis on youth recreation.

DATE FESTIVAL INVITES MAILED

Letters inviting more than 100 commercial exhibitors to display their products at the 1960 Riverside County Fair and National Date Festival have been mailed out, S. L. Abersold, supervisor of this department, said today.

Previous exhibitors will have first opportunity to select booth locations, he added.

AN EXHIBIT AT the fair is an excellent way of showing the public the outstanding features of any product, Abersold explained. It gives the potential customer an opportunity of seeing, touching, handling, smelling and in some cases tasting the product. There's also the advantage of comparison,

Russia to Fight Hungary Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UPI) — Russia planned a last-ditch battle in the United Nations General Assembly today against a new debate on its suppression of the 1956 Hungarian freedom revolt.

Driving Hazard

RUTLAND, Vt. (UPI) — Morris Viedoidofsky, 19, of Keene, N.H., ran his car off the road and into a tree after his pet kitten became wedged between the break pedal and the accelerator.

Abersold pointed out.

Anyone interested in exhibiting can obtain additional information by communicating with Abersold at the Riverside County Fair in India.

THE DEPARTMENT supervisor is an active businessman. He has been affiliated with the fair since 1949 mostly as a director of the parade. He is a member of the Sheriff's Posse, Elks Club and a director of the Chamber of Commerce. His principal interest is horses.

Vona O'Donnell, last year's commercial exhibit supervisor, has been transferred to the Fair's publicity and public relations department, according to Bob Fulenwider, secretary-manager.

Name Change Sent to Planners

A request by business men of North Palm Springs that a sign be erected on each side of Indian Avenue indicating Garnet Avenue as a name for a mile and a half stretch of old Highway 99 leading to the business area was referred by the board of supervisors Monday to the planning commission.

Advice Given On Grass Care

When Mr. Amateur Gardener has completed all the heavy work in preparing where he visualizes a lawn of verdant green, has fertilized the soil, carefully and evenly spread the seed, irrigated with a very fine spray morning and evening, gloated each day at the rapidity of its growth, and eventually finds that mowing time has come around.

He oils the mower and goes to work. The first cut is very important; the first growth is naturally tender, the roots have not yet attained full length and are not yet firmly gripped by the soil; so he makes sure the blades are sharp enough to make a clean cut and, as he goes along, none of the tender stalks are pulled out.

AFTER ABOUT three weeks of watching the growth blank patches might still be there, caused probably by occasional slips on the part of the sower. When this occurs lightly scrape the blank surface, spread seed and cover lightly with peatmoss or a mixture of peatmoss and steer manure.

The advantage of rye seed on the desert is—especially in the delightful, sunny days we are enjoying—the growth is more rapid than other ground covers such as Lippia and Zyassia. It also retains—with the necessary irrigation, feeding and cutting—that green splendor until next June begins to dry it up.

EVEN THE NEW Bermudas we wrote of a few months ago lose much of that green appearance during the next eight months. In many parts of the country growers are now giving rye grass its final feeding for this year, entirely the opposite of growing grass in the low desert.

Alternate each cutting time, north and south one cutting, east and west next cutting. An occasional spell with the roller might result in keeping the lawn level and enhancing the lawn's appearance. Inasmuch as steer manure is likely to entice flies we advise the use of the granules that all local nurseries carry. Spread lightly, evenly and periodically (once a month is sufficient), and the granules slowly dissolve in the watering and provide roots with the necessary compounds.

WHEN BEDDING any plant in our sandy soil it is wise to look on the soil as being very substandard and much so if bedding in newly opened tracts where builders are so busy. This fact is supported by horticulturalists who have tested our desert sand, so keep this in mind and give each plant the fertilizer your nurseryman suggests. As examples, Citrus Trees use sulphate of Ammonia with an occasional 11-8-4 mixture. Azaleas, Pelargoniums like acid soil, not too rich. Poinsettias need monthly Iron Sulphate.

Growing Roses in other parts of our country seems controversial to us; some even claim they need little nutrient—even less than Zinnias. It might be that Roses thrive with a treatment of mixed fertilizer twice a year in some parts of the country, however on the desert Roses need more care, food and water than other spots—more than where they consider irrigation once a week sufficient. Maybe the rains brought that about.

IN CONTRAST to this idea we have read articles, written by experts, plainly stating that too much water will help instead of retarding Roses. It may sound fallacious but a fullgrown Bougainvillea thrives on much less water than does a Rose bush, and, despite its size, a Citrus tree can be destroyed by overwatering.

We think it is agreed that Roses suffer more from attack by insects than most of other plant growths. Leaf hopper, red spider mites, and especially aphids are the most prevalent sucking pests; prethrum and nicotine might help but we have found a mixture of Lindane, Malathion and D.D.T. gives excellent results. New Framing Lumber Rule Is Announced

Grade-Marking Regulation Goes Into Effect April 1

Director Norman M. Lyon of the Los Angeles Insuring office of FHA today received an announcement from Federal Housing Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman that effective next April 1 all framing lumber used in housing built under FHA inspection will have to be grade-marked.

FHA Commissioner Zimmerman revealed this change at a convention of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association at the Nick Carter Hotel in Cleveland, Ohio.

ZIMMERMAN said that grade-marking already is being used on a mandatory basis in 12 of FHA's 75 insuring offices, but that it now is being made mandatory nationwide through a revision of the Minimum Property Standards.

"All softwood framing lumber going into houses with FHA-insured mortgages after next April 1, will have to be identified by the grade mark of an association or independent inspection agency qualified to grade-mark the species," the commissioner said.

PARTICULAR grades of framing are required by the MPS's, but Mr. Zimmerman pointed out that FHA inspectors are not lumber graders and should not be placed in the position of arguing with builders over grades.

"FHA is taking this further step to assure quality in the homes on which we insure mortgages, and to further protect the home buyer," he added.

GRADE-MARKING must be done under the supervision of:

1. The manufacturers' association responsible for the grading standards for the species involved, or
2. An independent inspection agency recognized by FHA and the American Lumber Standards Committee.

GAS COMPANY EMPLOYE ENDS RECORD SERVICE

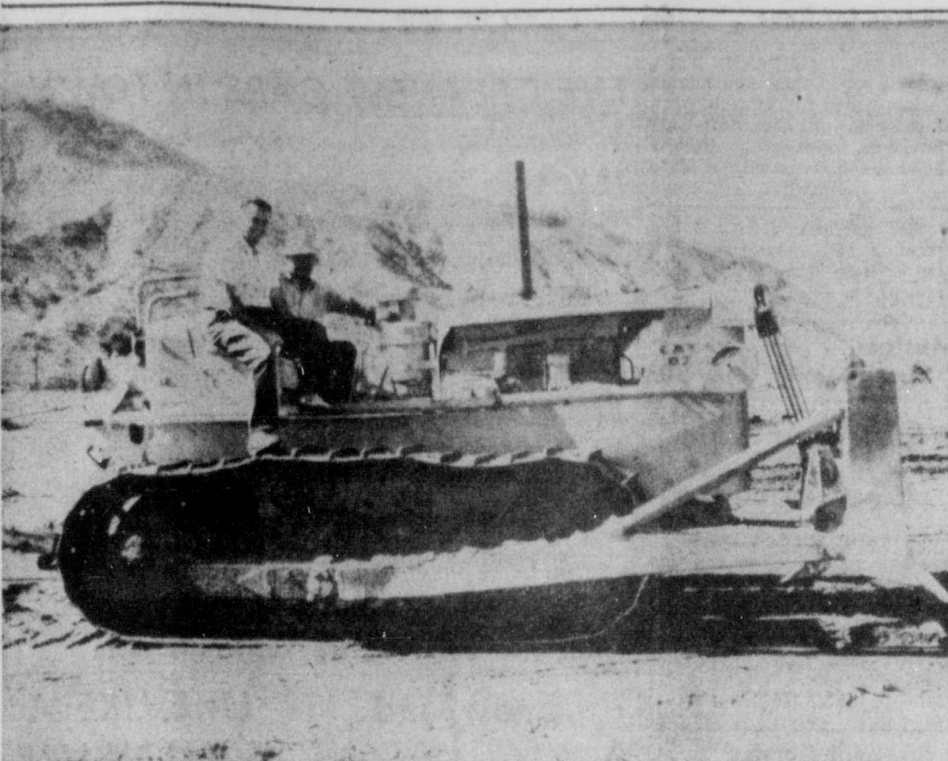

Jim Edwards of San Bernardino this month completed 52 years of full-time employment with the same firm, and retired the unchallenged champ.

And, unless employment practices change, allowing a man to begin sooner and stay longer, Edwards' claim to a record is not likely to be broken.

Edwards, who completed his more than half-century of employment with the Southern California Gas Co., began his career with the utility in 1907 at age 16. Now, at age 68, he admits he was looking for a "steady" job.

Starting his career as a fireman, Edwards has for the last several years been superintendent of distribution for the utility's eastern division headquarters in San Bernardino.

In his post, he supervised the installation of a vast natural gas distribution system covering an area that extends to the Arizona border and includes climates varying from the cold of Lake Arrowhead at 5750 feet elevation to the desert atmosphere of the Salton Sea at 184 feet below sea level.

SECURITY REPORTS MORE HOME BUILDING DECLINE

Further decline in manufacturing employment and home building occurred in October as the downward adjustment of business activity in the Riverside-San Bernardino Metropolitan Area continues, according to the Research Department of Security First National Bank's Citizens Division.

Restraining factors, as with the previous month's business decline, appeared to be the steel strike and the general tightness of credit. These restraining factors also affected the other twelve counties comprising the southern half of California.

"THE BANK INDEX of business activity, which measures the major areas of business activity within the 14 Southern California counties, showed a decline to 207.3 (preliminary). This is 4.9 per cent below the peak recorded in July, but 7.7 per cent above October of last year. Nearly all components of this Bank's index registered a drop," Ronald Patton, Research Manager, Citizens Division said.

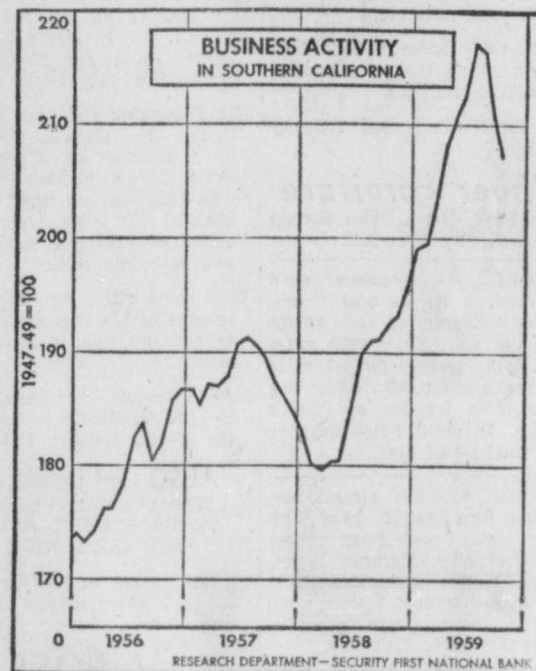

Building activity in Riverside County showed a further drop in October from the record all-time high reached in March and April of this year. Valuation of building permits issued in the county during the month totaled $7,584,300, or 10 per cent less than the preceding month and 45 per cent less than the March amount. However, this total for 1959 to date is $105,346,473 versus $98,564,886 for the entire twelve months of 1958.

HOME BUILDING activity, which is included in the above total valuations, reacted much the same. The number of permits issued for dwelling units in Riverside County decreased 5 per cent from September and 53 per cent from the all-time high of 836 units in April of this year, but the number of dwelling units recorded through October of this year is 23 per cent greater than the first 10 months of last year which assures Riverside County of a record year in home building in 1959, Patton said.

Employment remained at about the same level as the preceding month; unemployment increased approximately 9 per cent reflecting an unabsorbed increase in the total labor force.

ON A SEASONALLY adjusted basis, the number of persons reported unemployed in October totaled 5.6 per cent of the labor force in the Riverside-San Bernardino area compared with 4.3 per cent in Southern California as a whole and 6.0 per cent in the United States as a whole.

The effects of the steel strike continued to be reflected in manufacturing employment which dropped slightly from 29,300 to 28,900 in the Riverside-San Bernardino area. This decrease was countered by seasonal increases in other areas of employment so total employment decreased by only 200 persons, according to preliminary reports, he said.

COMPARED WITH last October, total employment has decreased only 9 per cent while unemployment has been reduced by 11.5 per cent. The settlement of the strike at Kaiser Steel on Oct. 26 can be expected to have a favorable influence on the Riverside-San Bernardino area's November employment figures.

BANK DEBITS in the City of Riverside, for the thirteenth consecutive month, showed an increase over the same month of the preceding year. Through October, this measurement of business activity was up 15 per cent over the first ten months of 1958.

"Bee Post Office"

MAYHEW, Miss. (UPI) — The post office here is appropriately and officially called the "Bee Post Office."

Postmistress Maude Morris got permission to switch the name to Bee because about 99 per cent of the post office's business is the 75,000 pounds of honey bees mailed to customers each year by Mayhew's chief industry, Stover Apiaries.
